About the CTBUH

The Council on Tall Buildings and Urban Habitat (CTBUH) is the world's leading resource for professionals focused on the inception, design, construction, and operation of tall buildings and future cities. Founded in 1969 and headquartered at Chicago's historic Monroe Building, the CTBUH is a not-for-profit organization with an Asia Headquarters office at Tongji University, Shanghai; a Research Office at Iuav University, Venice, Italy; and an Academic Office at the Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago. CTBUH facilitates the exchange of the latest knowledge available on tall buildings through publications, research, events, working groups, web resources, and its extensive network of international representatives. The CTBUH also developed the international standards for measuring tall building height and is recognized as the arbiter for bestowing such designations as "The World's Tallest Building."

What We Do

Why Join?

- Gain access to the latest state-of-the-art concepts, developments, and technical information in tall buildings, sustainability, and urban development.
- Reinforce your company as a global thought leader through the CTBUH international network, with inclusion of your company name & logo on the CTBUH website and in publications and other CTBUH outputs.
- Benefit from valuable networking within the fastest growing, multi-disciplinary network of professionals involved in the design, construction, and operation of tall buildings and cities internationally.
- Receive copies of CTBUH books and publications, including the world's only multi-disciplinary journal focused on tall buildings and urban habitat, the CTBUH Journal, issued quarterly.
- Receive complimentary and/or discounted registration at CTBUH events, including world congresses, conferences, regional chapter events, building tours, the annual awards symposium & dinner, etc.
